

Dear State of Florida 457b participant,

In a recent letter sent to you from Florida's Chief Financial Officer Jimmy Patronis, you were informed that the State of Florida Deferred Compensation Plan has decided to decrease the number of investment plan providers serving the plan.

This is a significant change that will require you to answer an important question before the October 31, 2019 deadline passes: Who will you choose to manage the funds you've accumulated in the State of Florida Deferred Compensation Plan now that T. Rowe Price and Empower are no longer investment provider options?

We're hoping your answer will be AIG Retirement Services (formerly VALIC).

In times like these when an important financial decision has to be made, it's nice to know that you can talk to a real person who will be with you every step of the way. AIG Retirement Services has a team of local advisors who can assist you.

Our advisors are conveniently located throughout Florida. You can easily schedule an in-person meeting by calling your local district office. Our advisors can help you take important next steps like setting up your new AIG Retirement Services account, initiating payroll contributions if you are currently employed, or arranging periodic distributions if you are retired.

AIG Retirement Services is excited to help you understand the options available for your State of Florida Deferred Compensation Plan account. Please contact us today!

Best regards,

Your State of Florida AIG Retirement Services Team
